

Prevenio™

Ingenuity in Technical & Laboratory Services

Protecting Brands By Protecting Lives
Significantly Reduce Incident Rates, Seamless Performance Improvement, Reduce Operating Costs ...

Testing | Validating | Bio-Mapping Analysing | Improving

Every year, food processors from all over the world conduct pathogen testing to ensure compliance with food safety standards; many of which are government mandated. To prevent recalls, brand damage, and ultimately lost revenue, some retailers require even further testing to keep customers safe.

Our 5,000 ft² laboratory, located east of Atlanta, has comprehensive testing capabilities to identify and eliminate 'hot spots' within your plant.

We offer a wide range of testing options for pork, poultry, beef, seafood and produce applications.

Gain Peace of Mind When You Leave the Testing With Our Best Minds

- Food Safety
- Validation of New Processes
- Prevention of Foodborne Pathogens
- Identification of High Risk Locations
- Customized, Cost-Effective Testing

The JBT Prevenio lab not only features the most advanced testing equipment in food safety, but also the most knowledgeable and experienced experts in the industry. Our team has helped hundreds of companies reduce operating costs by testing, analyzing, reporting, and implementing best practices in food safety.

- Maximum uptime
- Low testing costs

Bio-Mapping

Identify Issues + Implement Sustainable Solutions = PEACE OF MIND

- Develop & customize protocols
- Execute on-site sampling & testing
- Utilize current USDA testing methods for pathogen detection
- Generate reports, provide recommendations, and implement improvement plans

Pathogen Testing

Quick & Accurate Microbiological Tests

- Food products (produce, poultry, meat)
- Process water
- Surface swabs (equipment & contact surfaces)
- Shelf life studies
- Customized testing to identify high risk areas

Product Validation

Assessing Antimicrobial Treatments

- Develop tailored protocols
- Inoculate products with marker strains of select pathogens
- Simulate antimicrobial or other treatment processes
- Quantify pathogen reductions

Safe, Secure, Confidential

Our skilled Technologists will share their decades of experience in all types of food examinations, while protecting your need for a confidential testing experience. In addition, all details of your testing will be documented, and an electronic copy of the results supplied to you, safely and securely.
